

Central Evangelical Church

Francis A. Zeller, pastor.
Next Sunday is the last Sunday of the year. Would it not be a good plan to close the old year right, as well as to begin the new year properly? Why not go to church? The pastor will speak in the morning service on the subject, "Should We Make New Year's Resolutions? What Should Be My Resolutions for the New Year?" In the evening the theme will be "The Last Chance." At the C. E. service in the evening there will be the public installation of the new officers for the new year. The Sunday school meets at 9:45. Preaching at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Orchestra Tuesday evening. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening. Choir Thursday evening. Sunday, Jan. 6, reception to new members, baptizing of adults and infants. The public invited to all services.

Methodist Church

Next Sunday morning the pastor will speak on "The First Step for the New Year." The Ulmer orchestra from First church, Los Angeles, is coming Sunday evening. These same musicians were here some two months ago and gave a Sunday evening program that greatly delighted the people. No doubt the church will be crowded this time, and especially since this is to be a patriotic meeting. The pastor will give a short address on "Liberty and Law," in which three questions will be answered: (1) "Is prohibition a failure?" (2) "Is law breaking down in America?" (3) "Is the Ku Klux Klan a patriotic organization?" The choir gave two splendid programs last Sunday, and the people have spoken very highly of their work. But just wait! The Christmas exercise by the Sunday school Monday evening was fine—so everybody said. These youngsters are the pride of the church.

The orchestra meets on Thursday evening at the church, 7:30.
The Methodist Men's club gives a banquet Thursday evening, the 3rd of January.

The Flower-Screen concert will be Friday, Jan. 18.

Lomita Community Church

In the absence of the pastor, Rev. E. E. Clark, the pulpit of the Lomita Community church will be supplied Sunday, Dec. 30, by H. V. Adams, of the Lomita State bank, and S. D. Chase, the teacher of the Bible class of the Sunday school. Mr. Adams will preach in the morning, and Mr. Chase in the evening.

First Baptist Church of Torrance

Rev. J. Whitfield Green, pastor.
The theme for the morning subject will be a special Christmas and New Year sermon. "Life's Waste" will be the subject for the evening.

The sermon last Sunday evening was dispensed with. Rev. Markham and his wife came over from Hollywood and we had a rousing song and wonderful testimonial service.

The Sunday school exercises last Friday night were very well attended. Over two hundred parents and children were present. The songs and recitations of the young people were enjoyed by all.

Have you thought of making a New Year's resolution for 1924 and start the new year right? Let us suggest you resolve to come to the home church, where you will be cordially received. Will you do it? "All right; thanks."

Shine, shine, shine where you are, Shine, shine, shine where you are; Out of the Night, into the Light. Shine for the Lord where you are. Sunday school, 9:45 a. m. Morning service, 11 o'clock. Young People, 6:45 p. m. Evening song service, 7:20. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening.

Christian Church

American Legion hall. W. T. Adams, pastor; Scott Ludlow, superintendent of Bible school.

The services were well attended last Sunday and were very interesting, especially the evening program given by the Bible school. It was thoroughly enjoyed by every one present. There was a fine increase in the audience last Sunday, but there is room for improvement. Let every member of the Christian church in and around Torrance do their duty next Sunday and every Sunday and we will have fine audiences every Sunday morning and evening.

Now we are telling the old year 1923 good-bye and turning our faces toward the future to welcome the new year 1924. How better could we welcome the new year than by being at church next Sunday? What better resolution could we make than by resolving to attend church next Sunday and every Sunday this coming year? Bible school at 10 a. m. Communion and sermon at 11 a. m. Church services again at 7:30 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to attend all the services.

Dr. and Mrs. Morris received a substantial Christmas present in gold coins from the Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church last Monday evening.

TORRANCE PROGRESS CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS AND NAMES DIRECTORS FOR COMING YEAR

Members of the Torrance Progress club, the city's new organization devoted to the upbuilding of the city and the prevention of oil development in the restricted district, elected officers last Thursday night at the Methodist church.

Richard Smith, superintendent of the Union Tool company, was unanimously chosen president for the ensuing year.

Willis Brooks was chosen first vice-president, and Mrs. J. Wallace Post second vice-president.

Five members were elected to the board of directors.

They are R. A. Huber, State Exchange bank; Verne Babcock, First National bank; Charles Stock, Pacific Electric employe; W. C. Von Hagen, contractor; Lawrence Crowell, realtor.

George Proctor was appointed sergeant-at-arms.

The board of directors will select a secretary-treasurer at their first meeting.

When it was announced that the board of trustees have taken initial action for the creation of a city-wide assessment district for the paving of Western avenue, there was prolonged applause.

The next meeting of the Progress club will be held at Legion hall on Monday evening, Jan. 14.

At this meeting committees will be named by the president and the program of the organization will get under way.

With the appointment of a membership committee the organization will start on its certain growth.

It was made plain last Thursday night that future meetings of the organization are open to all who sign the declaration of principles of the organization—pledging themselves to the progress of Torrance and the prevention "by any legal means of oil development in the present restricted district of Torrance."
